The prior art of Ray et al. teaches a method and system using the telephony system to perform a handover of a call between different types of system as, however as stated by the office action and arguments set by the applicants' representative, Ray et al. does not teach the element of handing off between different system just that the communication can be done through different systems.

The prior art of Rygula et al. teaches a method and system that allows pre-paid users to handoff for prepaid mobile services in the third generation mobile devices.

However, the combination of the prior art references do not teach the claim invention as claimed in claims 23 and 24.
